About us

Since 1986, we have been combining agility with experience in IT consulting – agineo is the largest partner of platform provider ServiceNow in the DACH region. As specialists in business management processes, our experts design tailor-made digitalization solutions for renowned customers and implement them on the software side. In doing so, the company can draw on the wide-ranging technological expertise of the entire Materna Group.

Our value proposition

With passion, flexibility and tireless commitment, we take responsibility for our customers. Your success is our claim, for which we pull out all the stops – "on time" and "on budget", every day.
